

CHECKING UP TALE OF BOMB SUSPECT

Zelenko Reported to Have Carried Dynamite in His Pockets

INQUIRY WILL TAKE WEEK

By the Associated Press
Pittsburgh, Oct. 5.—Examination of Florin Zelenko, who was arrested here Sunday night with a quantity of explosives in his suitcase, was continued today by federal agents.

Government officers questioned the suspect for eight hours yesterday in an effort to connect him with the Wall Street explosion, but the nature of some of the information obtained will not be made public, they said, until the story can be checked up. They indicated that, if it would require about a week to verify Zelenko's story.

In their examination of the prisoner today the agents said they would question him on the charge of the explosion. It was said that he is wanted in connection with the theft of $25,000 from the New York woman, who is said to have had frequently carried quantities of dynamite in his pockets.

Columbus officials said that on September 20 they received word from Cleveland that Zelenko was on his way to Columbus from that city, and that they expected him to be arrested there.

On September 21 the construction company building a bridge in Columbus reported the disappearance of the dynamite, together with several foremen who had been employed on the work.

BORAH WILL WORK TO ELECT HARDING

Wires Nominee He Wants Him to Win and Promises His Help

CONTINUES WAR ON LEAGUE

By the Associated Press
Marion, O., Oct. 5.—In answer to widely published reports that Senator Borah, a leader of the treaty irrecalcitrants, soon would quit the Republican campaign, Senator Harding's headquarters here made public today a telegram in which Mr. Borah declared he would continue to work for Republican success.

The message, addressed to Senator Harding, was as follows:

"In view of reports I wish you to know my speeches in future will be along same lines as at Dayton, and in the Senate. I want to see you win and I want to see the league scheme defeated. In my own way I shall devote my time to the achievement of both propositions."

Senator Harding already has declared that Senator Borah's declarations in campaign speeches met with his approval, and he renewed his prediction today that throughout the remainder of the campaign he and Mr. Borah would be found speaking in accord. The nominee also revealed that in his next public address, which is to be delivered Thursday at Des Moines, he expects to develop a step further his position on the league issue.

Mr. Harding would make no comment today on the statement of President Wilson, appealing for support of the league, but said that in his Des Moines address he would "devote some attention to the matter."

Deaths of a Day

R. T. COLLINGS

Former Collingswood Mayor Was Seventy-six Years Old

Richard T. Collings, seventy-six years old, former mayor of Collingswood and member of the Interstate Bridge and Tunnel Commission, died in Collingswood last night in his home. Mr. Collings had been ill for several months and his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Collings was a son of Isaac Collings, virtually the first pioneer of old Haddon township, and who owned nearly all the land now comprising Collingswood borough. He was born in the old homestead, southeast corner of White Horse Pike and Collings road, which house has been rebuilt to its present proportions.

He attended the first "little red schoolhouse" here, where he received his education. The present Collings estate was bought by the late Mr. Knight from the Collings interests, which includes Knight's Park.

After working on his father's farm in Cecil county, Maryland, for several years, Mr. Collings returned to Collingswood, where he continued his residence, despite farming interests in Maryland and Delaware.

Mr. Collings originated the Delaware bridge movement that was carried successfully to its present proportions. After agitating the movement for a year or two Mr. Collings got recognition in Camden county, then in Burlington and Gloucester counties, where he succeeded in getting appropriations to start preliminary work for the bridge project.

He was the chairman of the first legislative Bridge Commission appointed by Governor Walter Edge and continued on that commission, with the exception of a short interval, until the commission was abolished and the present Interstate Bridge and Tunnel Commission was created. Mr. Collings was named on that commission, which position he held at his death. He was also a member of the New Jersey and Pennsylvania Joint Bridge Commission attending meetings in Philadelphia, Harrisburg and other places upon every occasion.

MRS. ROWLAND NOW SORRY FOR $4,500,000 BEQUEST

Apron-Clad Heiress, Making Apple Jelly for Kiddies, Afraid Money Will Spoil Family Happiness

"My son's illness and my household duties have kept me so busy that I could not find time to think about the money left me and my children by Mr. Searle," said Mrs. Mary Allen Rowland, 1200 Melrose avenue, today. Mrs. Rowland and her three boys inherited $4,500,000 through the will of Edward F. Searle, of Methuen, Mass.

Mrs. Rowland, wearing a plain black waist and skirt and a checked apron, was making apple jelly for the "kiddies," as she calls her children, the oldest of whom is twelve.

"I have been very busy lately," she explained, "and have not had time to think about the bequest. To be quite frank, I don't know whether it's worth $4,500,000 to change our names, which is one of the provisions in the will."

"As a matter of fact I would be just as well satisfied if Mr. Searle had left some one else the fortune, which, if accepted by me, will be used largely for the benefit and education of the kiddies. I like quiet living and the publicity given my family through the bequest is very distasteful to me. I have had more than my share."

"I am afraid that the fortune will make an immense change in our lives. We were very happy before."

"I have received so many calls and congratulations (many from people I never knew before) when my good or bad fortune was first announced by the newspapers that it has kept me busy from morning to night, answering the telephone and the door."

RENT LAWS TRAP STATE OFFICIAL

Friends Throw Sandwiches to New York Man, Intrenched in Attic Room

New York, Oct. 5.—(By A. P.)—Dr. Frederick R. Sanborn, member of the State Board of Health, today faced the alternative of contesting Mrs. James C. Barker's interpretation of the state administration-backed rent laws or giving up the comfortable home in which he had planned to spend the winter.

Dr. and Mrs. Sanborn, who had leased their home "for the summer" to Mrs. Barker, returned yesterday to be informed by Mrs. Barker that the rent laws prohibited her election—lease or no lease—without tedious court proceedings, and that she intended to stand by her "rights" and protect her roomers.

Doctor Sanborn and his wife "intrenched" in an attic room. Friends threw sandwiches to them through the window.

PHILA. DELEGATES SAFE IN TOKIO FIRE

All Escape When World Sunday School Convention Building Burns

MEETING ABOUT TO OPEN

Tokio, Oct. 5.—(By A. P.)—The building in which the world's Sunday school convention here was to be held was burned just before the opening of the convention today.

The building was crowded with the delegates, but the doorkeepers expressed belief that all escaped.

Many Americans went to Tokio to attend the eighth convention of the world's Sunday School Association. The convention program included more than a score of conferences on various topics with addresses by about 134 speakers in four languages. Sessions lasting ten days, concluding with an outdoor pageant, had been planned.

More than a dozen church leaders and church women of Philadelphia are attending the World Sunday School Convention at Tokio.

Among the Philadelphians who went to Tokio are Bishop George H. Bickley, of the Methodist Episcopal Church; William G. Landes, general secretary of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath Association; the Rev. W. E. Chalmers, of the American Baptist Publication Society; the Rev. Walter E. Jordan, pastor of Calvin Presbyterian Church; William C. Stoeber, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Schuyler, Miss Helen B. Scott, Miss Elizabeth Scott, Miss Sarah Hibbits, Miss Eleanor B. Maxwell, Miss Helen M. Oliver, Miss Matilda Doll and sister and the Rev. Dr. John T. Faris, of the Presbyterian Board of Publication.

FIRE DAMAGE $1,250,000

Flames, Starting Yesterday, Still Sweep Jacksonville, Fla., Plants Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 5.—(By A. P.)—Having caused damage estimated at more than $1,000,000, the fire which broke out early yesterday in the main factory of the Wilson Towner Fertilizer Works, was still burning today in the nearby plant of the Mason Forwarding Co.

Small explosions occurred today at intervals, but firemen did not expect any new outbreak of the flames.

Preliminary estimates by Wilson & Towner Co. officials place that concern's possible loss in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, while the loss of the Mason Forwarding Co. is estimated by W. M. Mason, its president, at $250,000.

HISTORIC BARN IS BURNED

A barn, said to have been more than 100 years old, near the home of F. B. Calvin, a Philadelphia attorney, in Swarthmore, burned to the ground at 5 o'clock this morning.

A large quantity of hay, farming implements and harness were burned. The barn had been known for nearly a century as the "Bums' Hotel." Mr. Calvin's home was not endangered by the blaze.

COX HAS DAY OF REST

Next Tour Will Take Him Through Five States

Washington, Oct. 5.—(By A. P.)—This was to be a day of real rest for Governor Cox before leaving for his next speaking tour that is to take him into Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana, Illinois and through his home state. The governor has no engagements for the day.

Late yesterday and last night the candidate held conferences with National Chairman George White, Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the speakers' bureau, and E. H. Moore, his representative manager, at which plans for conducting the final stages of the campaign were gone over.

LEHIGH SUIT UP TODAY

U. S. Supreme Court to Hear Charges Against Railway

Washington, Oct. 5.—(By A. P.)—Arguments in the government's suit against the Lehigh Valley Railroad and its subsidiaries, charging violation of the Sherman anti-trust and Clayton acts were expected to open the first active session today of the Supreme Court's October session. The principal charges of the government are those alleging restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman law and violation of the commodities clause of the Clayton act in the transportation of coal in which the railroad held a proprietary interest. Neither charge was sustained in the lower court.

Other important anti-trust cases on the calendar for today were those against the Eastman Kodak Co., the Associated Billposters and the American Can Co., but all three hearings were to be postponed temporarily under agreement of counsel.

WILSON GETS WAR MEDAL

Baker, Daniels and 1600 Protestant Chaplains Decorated

Washington, Oct. 5.—(By A. P.)—President Wilson today received a chaplain's war medal from the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America as an "expression of appreciation by the churches of his distinguished service to the church and to the world through his leadership in winning the world war and bring to the world the ideals embodied in the League of Nations."

Secretary Baker received the medal on behalf of the President. Mr. Baker and Secretary Daniels and the 1600 Protestant chaplains who served in the army and navy during the war also received similar medals. The presentation was made by Bishop William F. McDowell, of the Methodist Church, a member of the council's general committee of the army and navy.

GETS SHARK AT CAPE MAY

Pastor Catches Sea Monster With Rod and Reel

Cape May, N. J., Oct. 5.—Dr. Paul Sturdevant Howe, Episcopal rector, while fishing on convention hall pier last night, had a battle with a monster shark. Doctor Howe was fishing with a rod and reel when he hooked the shark, landing him after a battle of one hour and a half. The fish weighed 358 pounds and measured nine feet one inch.

Life guards say the shark has been seen in shallow waters here most of the fall. Charles Smith, manager of the pier, cut the shark open and found three small sharks and a half a dozen croakers. There is probably another of these monsters in these waters as they generally travel in pairs at this time of the year. The shark is now on exhibition on the pier.

MARTENS HEARING RESUMED

Labor Department Takes Up Deportation Proceedings

Washington, Oct. 5.—(By A. P.)—Hearing in the deportation proceedings against Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, Soviet agent in the United States, were resumed today before Immigration Inspector Scheel at the Department of Labor.

Inspector Scheel expressed the hope that the proceedings, which have been protracted over many months, might be concluded today and a recommendation in the case presented to Assistant Secretary Post.

He Wore Ear-Tabs in the Office—

No—he wasn't cold physically. He wore them because the noise of the typewriters chilled his thinking.

There came a day when he discarded his ear-tabs. Visitors took note, wondered and asked why.

"Don't need them any more," said our ear-tab friend cheerfully. "I woke up one day and installed the Noiseless."

Six seamen rescued from the wreck of the Norwegian steamer San Remo on the rocks off Monte Cristi, San Domingo, arrived here yesterday aboard the Norwegian steamship Mandeville from Kingston, Jamaica.

The San Remo was bound from New York to San Domingo and carried a general cargo.

The men rescued by the Mandeville are Thomas Hendrickson, chief officer; Thor Henrik Thomsen, third mate; Jen Christie, second engineer; Olaf Olsen, steward; Carpenter Martin and A. Johansson, seamen. All will be sent to their homes on the Naragua, which clears this port today for Christiania.

HELD FOR HITTING WOMAN

Roomer Accused After Quarrel Over Alarm Clock

Steve Penlos, twenty-four years old, of Washington, D. C., was held in $1000 bail for the grand jury today by Magistrate Harris, of the Thirty-second street and Woodland avenue station, charged with assault and battery.

It is alleged he attacked Anna Yost, who conducts a rooming house at 3907 Ludlow street, following a quarrel last night over an alarm clock. Penlos roomed at the house.

Fred Huber, another roomer, heard the woman's screams and called Patrolman Wilmer, who arrested Penlos.
